The summary of significant accounting policies is as follows:

(1) Distinguish assets from liabilities, current and non-current

Current assets are assets, which can be liquidated or disposed of within one year. Assets that do not belong to current assets are classified as non-current assets. Current liabilities are debts which must be paid-off within one year. Debts that do not belong to current liabilities are classified as non-current liabilities.

Notes to financial statements – continued (Expressed in thousands of dollars except for share and per share data and unless otherwise stated)

As of December 31, 2003 and 2004

(3) Short-term investments

Marketable equity securities are stated at the lower of cost or market value. Stock dividends are not recognized as income but treated as an increase in the number of shares. Cost of marketable equity securities sold is determined based on the weighted-average method.

Beneficiary certificates are stated at the lower of cost or market. The cost of beneficiary certificates sold is determined based on the weighted-average method.

Short-term notes are recorded at cost when acquired and stated at the lower of cost or market value at each balance sheet date, if the market value is available. The cost of notes, interest income, and gain or loss, either due to maturity or resulting from the sale of notes, is determined by the specific identification method.

Overseas investment trust funds are investments in foreign securities made through financial institutions with pre-determined purposes. The trust funds are recorded at the amount originally remitted and stated at the lower of cost or market value at each balance date. Realized interest, dividends and disposal gain which are remitted back are recognized at the amount received in the current period. Realized gain or loss which are not remitted back are recognized based on the net equity as reported by the trustee each month. The trust funds are translated into NT dollars using the spot rate at each balance sheet date. Any exchange difference is charged to income statement accounts.

Bonds and convertible bonds are recorded at the lower of cost or market value. The cost of these bonds sold is determined based on the weighted-average method.

(4) Allowance for bad and doubtful debts

Allowance for bad debts and doubtful accounts on notes receivable, overdue accounts and loans are determined based on the aging analysis of outstanding balances of such accounts and experience.

(5) Long-term investments

A. Long-term investments in stocks

Long-term investments in listed companies for which the Company's ownership interest is less than 20% of the voting stock, and which the Company lacks significant influence over operating and financial policies of the investee, are stated at the lower of cost or market value. Unrealized loss thereon is reflected as a reduction of shareholders' equity. Long-term investments in unlisted companies, in which the Company's ownership interest accounted for less than 20% of the common stock, are stated at cost. However, when there is evidence showing that a decline in market value of such investment is not temporary and is already less than cost, the market value becomes the new cost basis and the difference is accounted for as if it were a realized loss, and included in the determination of net income. Stock dividends are not recognized as income but treated as an increase in the number of shares held. Upon sales of long-term equity investments (accounted for under the cost method), the difference between the weighted-average cost and sales price is used to compute the resulting gain or loss.

Investments in equity securities are accounted for under the equity method where the Company's ownership interest is 20% or more of the voting shares and the Company has significant operational influence.

The cost of the disposal of an investment is determined by the weighted-average method.

B. Long-term investments in bonds

Long-term investments in bonds are accounted for at cost, and any premium or discount is amortized based on a reasonable and systematic basis.

Cathay Life Insurance Co., Ltd. Notes to financial statements – continued (Expressed in thousands of dollars except for share and per share data and unless otherwise stated) As of December 31, 2003 and 2004

(6) Investments in real estate

Investments in real estate are stated at cost when acquired.

Improvements and major renovation of investments in real estate are capitalized, while repairs and maintenance are expensed immediately.

Upon disposal, the related cost and accumulated depreciation are eliminated and gain and loss are recorded in operating gain and loss accounts.

Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method in accordance with the "Estimated Useful Life of Fixed Assets Table" published by the Executive Yuan of the ROC (the "Executive Yuan Depreciation Table").

The Company's real estate investments are for business leasing purposes; rents can be paid annually, semi-annually, quarterly, monthly or in a lump sum.

(7) Property and equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost or cost plus appreciation. When reevaluating property and equipment, land and other properties shall be reevaluated separately. Property appreciation shall be recorded under "capital surplus", according to applicable regulations. The capital surplus can only be used for making up operating losses and for capital increase.

Major additions, renewals and betterment are capitalized, while repairs and maintenance are expensed immediately.

Upon the sale or disposal of properties and equipment, the relating cost and accumulated depreciation are eliminated. Gain or loss resulting from such sale or disposal is classified as non-operating gain or loss.

Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method over the estimated service lives prescribed by the Executive Yuan Depreciation Table. Property and equipment that are still in use after their useful lives are depreciated based on the residual value and the newly estimated remaining useful lives.

B. Conversion of foreign subsidiaries' statements

Financial statements of foreign subsidiaries accounted for by the equity method are converted into NT dollars as follows: all assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are converted into NT dollars at the exchange rate prevailing on the balance sheet date. Stockholders' equity items are converted on the historical rate basis except for the opening balance of retained earnings, which is posted directly from the balance of the last year. Income Statements items are converted by the weighted-average exchange rate for the period. Differences arising from above conversion are reported as "Cumulative Conversion Adjustments" in stockholders' equity as a separate item.

When the financial statements of a foreign operation are converted into the local currency, the foreign currency financial statements are first converted into the functional currency if the foreign currency is not the functional currency. The exchange gain or loss from the conversion is recognized in the current period because it directly affects the cash flows of the foreign operation.

(15) Income taxes

The Company adopted SFAS No. 22, "Accounting for Income Taxes", which requires inter-period and intra-period tax allocations in addition to computing current period income tax payable. Furthermore, it requires recognition of temporary differences between deferred income tax liabilities, deferred income tax assets, prior year's loss carry forwards and investment tax credits. The valuation allowance is recognized if evidence shows it is more likely than not that a part or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. The prior year's income tax expenses adjustment should be recorded as current period income tax expenses in the year of adjustment.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are classified as current or non-current in accordance with the underlying assets or liabilities. Deferred income taxes not related to any assets or liabilities appearing in the financial statements are classified as current or non-current based on the expected length of time before it is settled or recovered.

As of December 31, 2003 and 2004

The Company has adopted SFAS No. 12, "Accounting for Income Tax Credits" in dealing with income tax credits. Accordingly, the income tax credits resulting from expenditures on the purchase of equipment and technology, research and development, education training, and investment in equity are accounted for by the flow-through method.

In accordance with Article 49 of the Financial Holding Company Act, the Company and its parent company jointly file corporation income tax returns and pay the 10% additional tax for their undistributed retained earnings since 2002 under the Integrated Income Tax System. If there are any tax effects due to the adoption of the foregoing Integrated Income Tax System, the parent company may proportionately allocate the effects on tax expense (benefit), deferred income tax and tax payable (tax refund receivable) to the Company and other subsidiaries.

(16) Capital expenditure expenses

Capital expenditure is capitalized and amortized over its useful life if it involves a significant amount and may generate revenues in future periods. Otherwise, it is expensed in the year of the expenditure.

(17) Treasury stock

The Company uses the cost method to account for treasury stock. Under the cost method, the treasury stock account is recorded at the cost of the shares purchased. When the disposal price of the treasury stock is greater than the cost, the difference is credited to capital surplus. If the disposal price is lower than cost, the difference is debited to capital surplus. If capital surplus is insufficient to cover the excess of the cost over the price, the difference is charged to retained earnings. The book value of treasury stock is calculated using the weighted-average method based on the security type and the reason of repurchase.

When treasury stock is retired, capital surplus-premium of common shares and common stock are debited according to the ratio of retired treasury stock to total issued stock. When the book value of the retired treasury stock is higher than the sum of its par value and capital surplus-premium of common shares, the difference is debited to other capital surplus. If other capital surplus is insufficient to cover the difference, retained earnings are debited. When the book value of the retired treasury stock is lower than the sum of its par value and capital surplus-premium of common shares, the difference is credited to capital surplus-treasury stock.
