(2) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, unrestricted bank deposits and all highly liquid investments with a maturity of less than three months.

(3) Short-term investments

Marketable equity securities are stated at the lower of cost or market value. Stock dividends are not recognized as income but treated as an increase in the number of shares. Cost of marketable equity securities sold is determined based on the weighted-average method.

Beneficiary certificates are stated at the lower of cost or market. The cost of beneficiary certificates sold is determined based on the weighted-average method.

Short-term notes are recorded at cost when acquired and stated at the lower of cost or market value at each balance sheet date, if the market value is available. The cost of notes, interest income, and gain or loss, either due to maturity or resulting from the sale of notes, is determined by specific identification method.

The trust funds are recorded at the amount originally remitted and stated at the lower of cost or market value at each balance date. Realized interest, dividends and disposal gain, which are remitted back are recognized at the amount received in the current period. Realized gain or loss which are not remitted back are recognized based on the net equity as reported by the trustee each month. (4) Allowance for bad and doubtful debts

(5) Long-term investments

A. Long-term investments in stocks

Long-term investments in listed companies for which the Company's ownership interest is less than 20% of the voting stock, and which the Company lacks significant influence over operating and financial policies of the investee, are stated at the lower of cost or market value. Unrealized loss thereon is reflected as a reduction of shareholders' equity. Long-term investments in unlisted companies, in which the Company's ownership interest accounted for less than 20% of the common stock, are stated at cost. However, when there is evidence showing that a decline in market value of such investment is not temporary and is already less than cost, the market value becomes the new cost basis and the difference is accounted for as if it were a realized loss, and included in the determination of net income. Stock dividends are not recognized as income but treated as an increase in the number of shares held. Upon sales of long-term equity investments (accounted for under the cost method), the difference between the weighted-average cost and sales price is used to compute the resulting gain or loss.

Investments in equity securities are accounted for under the equity method where the Company's ownership interest is 20% or more of the voting shares and the Company has significant operational influence.

The cost of the disposal of an investment is determined by the weighted-average method.

If there is any such indication, the Company has to recalculate the recoverable amount of the asset. If the recoverable amount increases as a result of the increase in the estimated service potential of the assets, the Company shall reverse the impairment loss to the extent that the carrying amount after the reversal would not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined (net of amortization or depreciation) had no impairment loss been recognized for the assets in prior years.

Cathay Life Insurance Co., Ltd. Notes to unaudited financial statements – continued (Expressed in thousands of dollars except for share and per share data and unless otherwise stated) As of September 30, 2004 and 2005

(B) Credit and market risks

The counterparties for all of the Company's futures contracts, forward foreign exchange contracts, and interest rate swaps are international financial organization with superior credit ratings. In addition, the Company worked with several other financial institutions to diversify its risks. The Company believes that the possibility of a breach of contract was quite low. Moreover, if there is a breach, the Company believes that it would not encounter major loss due to the nature of the investments. Further, the Company was exposed to various exchange rate risks but the possible loss can be balanced out by gain/loss from hedging transactions.

(C) Cash flow and demand

As cash inflow and cash outflow will be automatically offset against each other on the expiration date of a forward contract, no demand for substantial cash flow is expected in connection with such transactions.
